Fund manager's commentary

The Federal Reserve increased its 2021 economic growth forecast to 6.5% as recovery accelerated in the wake of Covid-19 vaccinations. President Biden enacted his $1.9 trillion stimulus package and called for $2.25 trillion of infrastructure spending funded by higher corporate taxes. US jobs data topped expectations, with unemployment falling to 6%. US stocks gained 5.77% in sterling, beating the 4.09% gain by global equities. Cyclical stocks outperformed. Within the EF Brompton Global Conservative Fund, this contributed to a 7.04% gain for the iShares World Value Factor exchange-traded fund but was a headwind for growth managers. US technology shares lagged, up 2.60% in sterling, and Polar Capital Global Technology was even weaker, down 2.60%. UK stocks gained 4.12% and smaller stocks outperformed, up 5.08%. Among portfolio holdings, Chelverton UK Equity Growth, a small-cap specialist, and Man GLG Income gained 6.07% and 5.41% respectively but Majedie UK Focus gained only 2.40%. In Asia excluding Japan, where equities lagged, down 1.22% in sterling, Matthews Asia ex Japan Dividend did worse, falling 1.71%. Global bonds fell 0.62% in sterling as inflation expectations rose while UK government bonds rose 0.03% and sterling corporate bonds fell 0.17%. Within the portfolio, the sterling-hedged holding in Legal & General Global Inflation Linked Bond and Fidelity Global Inflation-linked Bond returned 1.10% and 0.85% respectively, benefitting from their relatively-short duration and inflation protection. The sterling-hedged holding in Vanguard Global Bond, however, fell 0.58%. The EF Brompton Global Conservative Fund gained 0.59%† in March while the sector rose 0.62%.

Investment policy

The Fund will typically invest a minimum of 80% of its net asset value in collective investment schemes, exchange traded funds, unregulated collective investment schemes, and may also include transferable securities (including investment trusts and similar instruments), money-market instruments, fixed income instruments, deposits and foreign exchange contracts.

It is expected that no more than 35% of the total Fund will have exposure to equity markets, with the remainder of the portfolio providing exposure to assets such as alternatives, commodities, property, cash, cash equivalents and fixed income investments, in order to maintain its conservative risk profile. However, investments will not be confined by industrial, economic or geographical sector.

The Fund may also hold, on a temporary basis, all or part of its assets in cash or other ancillary liquid assets.

The Fund may utilise derivatives for the purposes of efficient portfolio management (typically hedging, including investing in hedged share classes, which attempts to mitigate against falls in the value of the Fund's assets and the effects of changes in currency exchange rates against the Fund's base currency, which is pounds sterling).

The Fund's benchmark is IA Mixed Investment 0-35% Shares. This represents a comparator benchmark because the Fund's performance can be compared to funds which also sit within this industry sector.
