Within the EF Brompton Global Equity Fund, Fidelity Germany did worst, down 10.90%, lagging the German market's 10.05% fall in sterling. BlackRock European Dynamic and Threadneedle European Smaller Companies were, however, more resilient, down 1.62% and 3.54% respectively. In early November, the European Central Bank left policy unchanged but the Bank of England announced £150 billion of further quantitative easing and the government extended the furlough scheme. UK equity holdings proved resilient as UK equities fell 5.06%. Man GLG UK Income was weakest, down 4.39%, but Chelverton UK Equity Growth rose 1.21%, exceeding the 0.42% gain by smaller companies, while Liontrust Special Situations fell 2.71%. In Japan, where equities fell 1.93% in sterling, Comgest Growth bucked the trend, rising 2.77%, but Nippon Active Value underperformed, falling 3.12%. Equities in Asia excluding Japan and emerging markets outperformed, up 2.79% and 2.06% respectively in sterling, and Chinese stocks, up 5.27%, did even better. Investment policy

The Fund will typically invest a minimum of 80% of its net asset value in collective investment schemes, exchange traded funds and unregulated collective investment schemes. The Fund may also invest in investment trusts (and similar instruments), other transferable securities, money-market instruments, fixed income instruments, deposits and foreign exchange contracts.

Investments will not be confined by industrial, economic or geographical sector. The Fund may hold, on a temporary basis, all or part of its assets in cash or other ancillary liquid assets.

The Fund may utilise derivatives for the purposes of efficient portfolio management (typically hedging, including investing in hedged share classes, which attempts to mitigate against falls in the value of the Fund's assets and the effects of changes in currency exchange rates against the Fund's base currency, which is pounds sterling).

The Fund's benchmark is IA Global. This represents a comparator benchmark because the Fund's performance can be compared to funds which also sit within this industry sector.
