Fund manager's commentary

Pollsters, bookmakers and investors were all confounded when UK voters chose "Brexit". Sterling fell and equities also fell initially but the FP Brompton Global Opportunities Fund benefited from holding foreign-currency assets as the dollar, yen and euro rose 8.88%, 17.70% and 8.66% respectively against sterling. Defensive assets rose as yields fell to historically low levels and the iShares Core UK Gilts exchange-traded fund (ETF) was added to the portfolio in early June. The receding prospect of interest rate rises spurred Asia ex-Japan and emerging market equities to gains of 11.90% and 13.34% respectively in sterling. The portfolio benefited from its significant holdings in these markets. The iShares MSCI Emerging Markets Minimum Volatility ETF did best, rising 12.95%. Lindsell Train Japanese Equity outperformed its benchmark, rising 11.80%. US equities rose 9.16% in sterling, a gain reflected in strong gains for the iShares Core S&P 500 ETF, Newton Global Income and Fundsmith Equity. The Newton and Fundsmith holdings were reduced in favour of a sterling-hedged holding in the iShares MSCI World ETF, which should benefit from recoveries in global equities and sterling after the initial sell-off. Increased export competitiveness following sterling's fall and supportive comments from the Bank of England governor, Mark Carney, led to a recovery in UK equities, which ended June up 4.97%. Larger UK companies outperformed smaller companies. The Wisdom Tree Europe Small Cap Dividend ETF lost 5.06% as a result of its small company bias. The FP Brompton Global Opportunities Fund gained 3.69% † while the sector gained 2.57%.

An FP Brompton Multi-Manager OEIC sub-fund

Investment policy

The Fund will principally invest in collective investment schemes, exchange-traded funds and unregulated collective investment schemes (which include limited partnerships).

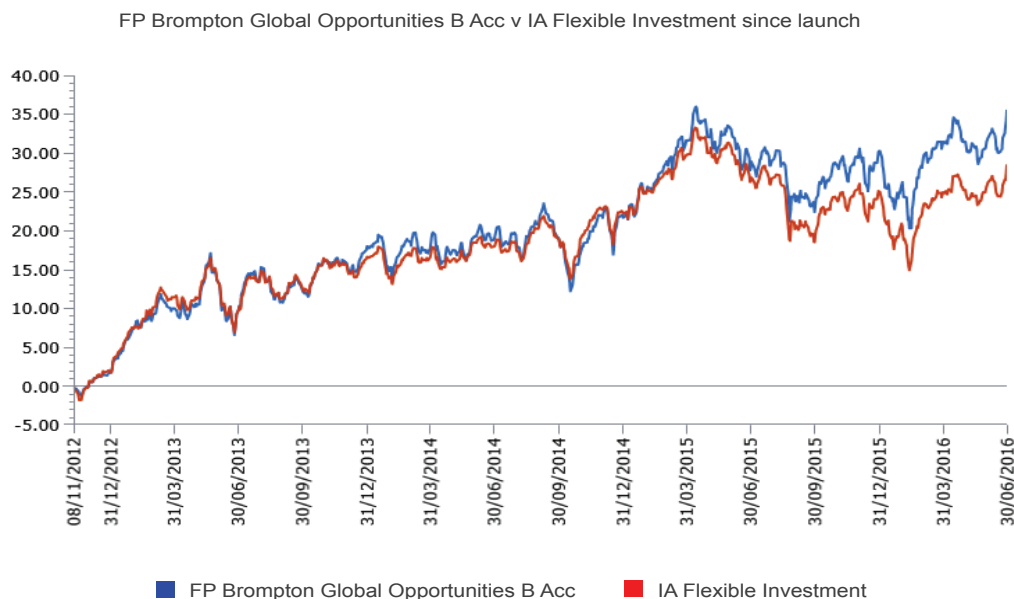

The Fund may also invest in investment trusts (and similar instruments) and other transferable securities, money-market instruments, fixed income instruments, deposits and foreign exchange contracts. Investments will not be confined to any particular sector.

Although the Fund will usually be invested across a range of asset classes, in certain market conditions, the fund manager may decide to hold up to 100% in equity markets. This would be for a limited period and only in exceptional circumstances.

The Fund may also hold, on a temporary basis, all or part of its assets in cash or other ancillary liquid assets. The Fund may utilise derivatives for the purposes of efficient portfolio management.
